

Morgan Stanley offers VoiceID authentication technology to provide enhanced security for your accounts through effortless authentication on the phone.

How It Works

Similar to TouchID on your mobile device, VoiceID works upon enrollment by creating and storing a voiceprint, a unique representation of your voice. If we are not able to recognize your voice, Morgan Stanley's Fraud Department will evaluate any risk to your identity and alert your Morgan Stanley team to any potential security concerns that need to be reviewed with you.

Getting Started

Enrolling in VoiceID is as simple as speaking naturally during a conversation with one of our service professionals.

- 1. Contact the Morgan Stanley Service Center at 800-869-3326.*
- 2. When prompted, request to speak to a "representative."
- 3. Ask the Morgan Stanley service professional to enroll you in VoiceID. In order to enroll in VoiceID, they will ask to record your voice, be sure to speak clearly in order to build your unique voiceprint.
- 4. You can also enroll for VoiceID by calling your Morgan Stanley Financial Advisor.

Note: Once the system captures 60 seconds of your voice, enrollment will be complete and you can begin using VoiceID for authentication 24 hours after enrollment.

The voice capture is not stored in Morgan Stanley's systems; it is only used to generate a client's voiceprint.

VoiceID activity is continually monitored by the Morgan Stanley Fraud Department to help keep your account secure.
